Liability

The organizer is liable for claims for damages by participants arising from injury to life, body, or health, as well as for other damages resulting from an intentional or grossly negligent breach of duty. Furthermore, the organizer is liable for breaches of obligations whose fulfillment is essential for the proper execution of the contract and on whose compliance the participant may regularly rely. In the case of a slightly negligent breach of these contractual obligations, the organizer is only liable for the typical, foreseeable damages, unless the claims for damages arise from injury to life, body, or health. Otherwise, liability is excluded.
